(Qualified
Outside
Ireland)

Who is this Guide for?

- A nurse or midwife who qualified outside Ireland and is applying to register in Ireland.
- A NMBI registrant who qualified outside Ireland and who is applying to register in an additional division. This is also referred to as adding a qualification on the NMBI Register.
- A nurse or midwife applying to practise in Ireland on a temporary or occasional basis.
- A European Professional Card (EPC) holder.

This guide is not for:

- a nursing or midwifery student in one of Ireland's education bodies.
- a registered nurse or midwife who qualified in Ireland and is applying to register in an additional division.

Glossary of Terms

Term	What it means
G1	Applications classified under the automatic recognition pathway. Directive applicants.
G2	Applications classified under the general systems pathway. Directive applicants.
G3	Non-Directive applicants. These applications are not governed by EU regulation.
Directive 2005/36/EC	The recognition of professional qualifications is governed by Directive 2005/36/EC. This directive enables the free movement of professionals such as nurses and midwives within the EU.
Qualification recognition	The process of reviewing your nursing or midwifery qualifications including your degree, work experience and other relevant training
Registration	This step follows qualification recognition and is the last process before your name is added to the NMBI Register.
European Professional Card (EPC)	The EPC is not a physical card, but rather electronic proof that you have passed administrative checks and that your professional qualifications are recognised.
Host country or authority	The organisation that has been legally delegated with the powers to regulate the nursing or midwifery professions in the country you intend to practise. In Ireland, the competent authority is NMBI.
Home competent authority	The organisation that has been legally delegated with the powers to regulate the nursing or midwifery professions in the country you qualified or trained as a nurse or a midwife.
Establishment	When you establish yourself (permanently) in Ireland and intend to practise nursing or midwifery.
Temporary and occasional	If you are already legally established in a Member State other than Ireland and wish to practise nursing or midwifery in Ireland on a temporary and occasional basis. The temporary nature of the service is assessed on a case-by-case basis.
Period of adaptation	A supervised placement in an approved Irish health care facility. The timeframe of a period of adaptation is 6-12 weeks.
Aptitude test	A test for overseas applicants. The test is composed of two parts: theory and practical.
Reference date	The date the Member State agreed to comply with the EU minimum training requirements.

Overview of the Application Process

To practise nursing or midwifery in Ireland, you will need to go through a two-step process:

Recognition of qualifications - involves comparison of your qualifications with the Irish education standards and requirements

Recognition process

- Log into MyNMBI.
- Set up an account.
- Complete an Overseas Recognition application.
- Obtain all the required certified documentation, upload to MyNMBI (and translations if needed).
- Pay the appropriate fee.

NMBI will review your application and email you the recognition outcome.

Possible outcomes: qualifications recognised, submit missing document(s), a compensation measure is required, qualifications refused for recognition. The last two outcomes are provisional and can be appealed.

Registration

Registration process

- Log into MyNMBI.
- Answer questions to allow NMBI to classify your application.
- Provide evidence of English language competence.
- The list of required documents will be presented to you.
- Obtain all the required certified documentation, upload to MyNMBI (with certified translations if needed).
- Pay the appropriate fee.
- NMBI will review your application and email you the outcome.

Possible outcomes: you are now registered, resubmit missing document(s), registration with conditions attached and registration refused. The last two outcomes are provisional and can be appealed

Types of Applications

Type of Applications (G1/G2/G3)

Why is it important to know which type of applicant you are?

- It determines the documents you will be required to submit.
- The classification is based on an EU Directive on the recognition of professional qualifications (2005/36/EC) which clearly defines the level of assessment an application can undergo and the timelines to process applications once all documents are submitted.

What is classification?

G1 and G2 applications (EU Directive applications) - General description

For your application to be considered under the EU Directive it needs to meet the two criteria below at the same time:

P

Meet one of the four 'Personal Status Criteria':

- 1 I am an EU or EEA Member State national (see Annex 1); or
- 2 A family member of an EU Member State national (see Annex 1); or
- 3 A person who has been granted refugee or subsidiary protection status in Ireland (see Annex 1); or
- 4 A family member of a person granted refugee or subsidiary protection status in Ireland (see Annex 1).

Meet one of the 'Qualifications Criteria':

G1

- 1 I am applying to the general nursing or midwifery division of the Register, and I started my qualifications in an EU or EEA country after its reference date (see Annex 2).
- 2 I am applying to the general nursing or midwifery division of the register, I qualified in an EU or EEA country and started my qualifications before the country's reference date. I also have three (general nursing) or two (midwifery) out of five consecutive years of professional experience in an EU or EEA country in the planning, organising and administration of care.
- 3 I started my qualifications in an EU or EEA country before the reference date of that country, and I satisfy a list of criteria specific to my country of training (see Annex 3).

- 1 I qualified in an EU or EEA country and I am applying to any division other than general nursing or midwifery.
- 2 I qualified outside the EU or EEA, I had my qualification recognised in an EU or EEA country and I have three years of professional experience in an EU or EEA country in the planning, organisation, and administration of care.
- 3 I qualified as a general nurse or midwife in an EU or EEA country. I started my qualifications before the reference date of that country. I do not have three out of five consecutive years (for general nursing) or two out of five consecutive years (for midwifery) of professional experience in an EU or EEA country in the planning, organising and administration of care. I do not satisfy the list of criteria specific to my country of training (see Annex 3).

Who can apply?

NMBI has developed a tool to check if you can apply for registration. To find out if you are eligible, log into MyNMBI and complete the recognition application.

How much does it cost?

For the most up to date information on our fees please check our website.

How long does it take?

To process your application, all your documents must be uploaded to MyNMBI. The timelines depend on the type of application. There are a number of factors that determine how long it will take to process your application.

- Having all the correct documents ready to hand when you submit your application. The documents need to be valid, current and translated to English (see Section 9). You will need to provide correctly certified copies.
- The level of checks required to determine if your qualifications meet the standard. G1 applications require an administrative assessment only, while G2 and G3 applications will also go through a qualifications assessment process.
- If you are requested to complete a compensation measure: this might apply to G2 and G3 applicants only. You will have 12 months to complete a compensation measure. Details available in Section 10.3. It takes successful applicants on average 13 months from submission of documentation to registration.
- If you applied for your qualifications to be recognised and a document is missing, you have six months from the date of submission to provide the missing document(s). Otherwise your application will be automatically closed, and you will need to apply again.

Overview of the processing timelines once NMBI has received all your documents

Application type	Recognition decision	Registration decision (working days)	Overall processing timelines (working days)
G1 EPC	1 month	20 days	2 months approx.
G1 No EPC	3 months	20 days	4 months approx.
G1 Temporary and Occasional No EPC	1 month	20 days	2 months approx.
G2 EPC	2 months	20 days	3 months approx.
G2 No EPC	3 months	20 days	4 months approx.
G2 Temporary and Occasional EPC	2 months	20 days	3 months approx.
G2 Temporary and Occasional No EPC	1 month	20 days	2 months approx.
G3	3 months	20 days	4 months approx.

The screenshot shows the "My overseas recognition application" page. The heading is "My overseas recognition application". The text explains that nurses and midwives practising in Ireland must be registered with the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Ireland (NMBI). It then lists two processes: 1. Recognition of qualifications and 2. Registration. Below this, it defines who the application is for and who it is not for. At the bottom, there is a "Begin application" button and a large green double arrow pointing left, followed by the text "Begin application".

My overseas recognition application

Nurses and midwives who practise in Ireland must be registered with the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Ireland (NMBI).

To practise nursing or midwifery in Ireland, those who qualified outside Ireland will need to complete two processes:

1. Recognition of qualifications – this involves the comparison of your qualifications with either the Irish education standards (G3) or the EU directive (G1/G2).
2. Registration.

Who is this type of application for?

- Applicants who trained as nurses or midwives outside Ireland and wish to register in Ireland.
- Applicants who trained outside Ireland, are currently on the NMBI register and would like to apply for registration in an additional division of the register.
- Applicants wishing to practise in Ireland on a temporary and occasional basis but do not hold a European Professional Card (EPC).

Who is this type of application not for?

- Any student who trained as nurse or midwife in Ireland and wishes to register with NMBI.
- Registered nurses or midwives who trained in Ireland and who would like to apply for an additional division of the register.

For more detailed information on the overseas qualification recognition process please read our Applicant User Guide and Recognition and Registration for Non-EU Overseas Applicants FAQs.

My overseas registration application

Nurses and midwives who practise in Ireland must be registered with the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Ireland (NMBI).

To practise nursing or midwifery in Ireland, those who qualified outside Ireland will need to complete two processes:

1. Recognition of qualifications – this involves the comparison of your qualifications with the Irish education standards and requirements.
2. Registration.

Who is this type of application for?

- Applicants who trained as nurses or midwives outside Ireland and have had their qualification recognised by NMBI.
- Applicants who trained outside Ireland and have completed a pre-authorised course.
- Applicants holding a European Professional Card (EPC).

Who is this type of application not for?

- Any student who trained as nurse or midwife in Ireland and wishes to register with NMBI.
- Registered nurses or midwives who trained in Ireland and who would like to be considered for an additional division of the register.

For more detailed information on the overseas registration process please read our Applicant User Guide and Recognition and Registration for Non-EU Overseas Applicants FAQs.

Adding a New Division

If you are already on the NMBI Register and would like to apply for registration in another division, you will need to go through the recognition and registration processes again. This applies to anyone who trained outside Ireland. If you submit a second application for qualification recognition within seven days, you will be exempt from paying the qualification recognition fee the second time.

The European Professional Card (G1 and G2)

The European Professional Card (EPC) aims to facilitate the free movement of professionals in the EU and EEA. The EPC is intended to simplify the recognition of professional qualifications, enhance transparency for EU citizens and increase trust among authorities across the EU.

The EPC is not a physical card, it is electronic proof that you have passed the administrative checks and your professional qualifications are recognised by the host country.

If you are a nurse responsible for general care and wish to apply for an EPC, you must go through the EU's online portal. The EPC relates only to the recognition of professional qualifications. If you have an EPC, it means that your qualifications have been recognised and you are now required to apply for registration with NMBI.

Temporary and Occasional Applications (G1 and G2)

G1 and G2 applicants may provide their services in Ireland on a temporary and occasional basis. We look at the following criteria to assess applications:

- Duration
- Frequency
- Regularity
- Continuity

This option is only available to nurses and midwives who are not establishing themselves in Ireland. There are two pathways to apply as a temporary and occasional applicant.

- 1 If you have a temporary EPC (your qualifications have been recognised by your home competent authority), you may begin your registration application on MyNMBI.
- 2 You do not hold an EPC and would like to start the temporary and occasional recognition process with us.

For more information on fees please visit the NMBI website.

Once you complete the registration process successfully, your name will appear on NMBI's Register as a provider of temporary and occasional services.

Preparing Your Documents

Preparing Documents

Certified copies

A certified document is a photocopy of an original document that has been viewed, validated and marked as original by an approved authority. It is important that you certify your documents correctly as it will cause a delay in processing your application.

To get a certified copy of your document, you must bring your original document(s) and a photocopy to one of the certifying authorities listed below:

- Solicitor or Lawyer
- Notary public
- Peace Commissioner
- Justice of the Peace
- Commissioner for Oaths
- Post Office, United Kingdom only.

The certifying authority must confirm they have seen the original document. They must state their full name and profession, and stamp, sign and date the photocopy of the document.

A copy or a picture of this must be uploaded as part of your application. Please note that failing to provide certified copies will delay how quickly NMBI can process your application.

Certified copies are required for the following documents:

- Identity document (Passport is the primary identity document. If you do not hold a passport you may provide a certified copy of a National Identity Card)
- Evidence of change of name (If any of your required documents are in a different name, you must provide a certified copy of evidence of change of name e.g. marriage certificate, birth certificate, deed poll)
- Qualification parchment
- Qualification transcript (G2, G3)
- Certified translation of document.

Translation of documents

We will need a certified English translation of any document which is not written in English.

The translation must be:

- carried out by a qualified translator
- signed and stamped by the translator, and
- dated by the translator.

The translator must confirm, in the English language, that the translation is an exact translation of the original document. You will be requested to submit translations of all your documents that are not in the English language.

For example, if your birth certificate is not in English, you should send us a certified copy of your birth certificate and a certified English translation of your birth certificate. The translation must be in writing and must include the translator's professional contact details (telephone, address and email address).

Glossary of documents

The glossary below lists all the documents that NMBI may ask you to provide during qualification recognition and registration stages. This is the full list of documents; it does not mean that you are required to provide all of them. To know which documents are relevant to your application, please log into MyNMBI, answer a few questions and the system will tell you which documents you need to provide.

Document name	What is it?	Submission details and document validity	When we may request this document
Certificate of Acquired Rights	A certificate used amongst EU regulators. Your home competent authority (regulator in the country you trained in) attests that you have practised for a certain period of time before the date of the certificate (three years for general nurses and two years for midwives out of the last five years). This is generally required when your training does not meet the minimum training requirements as described in Annex V of Directive 2005/36/EC. This certificate is produced for G1 applicants.	Issued in the last six months	Qualification Recognition

Document name	What is it?	Submission details and document validity	When we may request this document
Certificate of Conformity	A certificate used amongst EU regulators. Your home competent authority (regulator in the country you trained in) produces a certificate which mentions that your education programme fulfils the requirements of Annex V of Directive 2005/36/EC. This certificate is produced for G1 applicants.		Qualification Recognition
Certificate of Current Professional Status or Certificate of Good Character	A certificate produced by a regulator in a jurisdiction where you practised nursing or midwifery. Some countries have regional regulators while others have national ones. The certificate states your registration dates, registration status and if you have any fitness to practise restrictions.	Issued in the last six months NMBI will request that you provide a certificate for each jurisdiction you practised or registered nursing or midwifery in. For G1/G2 applicants this will be required as part of registration while for G3 as part of Recognition process.	Qualification Recognition and in some cases Registration
Certificate of General System	A certificate used amongst EU regulators to state that the applicant is eligible under General Systems.		Qualification Recognition
European Professional Card	A document that you receive once you complete the recognition of your qualification through the EU online portal.		Registration
Evidence of formal qualifications or diploma	Certified copy of Diploma or Parchment or official evidence that you successfully completed your training.		Qualification Recognition
Evidence of meeting the minimum levels of an English language test	A certificate of test results from either the International English Language Test System (IELTS) or Occupational English Test (OET).	Information on the minimum scores is available here. We only accept IELTS or OET test results that are less than two years old. If your test results are out of date, you will need to resit the IELTS or OET	Registration

		- You must provide IELTS Academic Test Report Form (TRF) number OR OET Candidate Number as part of Step 1 of the application process, detailed in the next section - NMBI will independently verify your scores - We only accept one test result and do not accept combined results.
Evidence of registering and practising in English	A letter on headed paper or an email from your employer(s) or Nursing Authority covering the following: - Location of employment - The dates of employment - Statement that you were practising as a nurse or midwife primarily through English.	If you have registered and practised in English must be able to prove that you have three years post registration practice within the last five years in one of the recognised countries. These are: - Australia - Canada - New Zealand - The United States of America - United Kingdom.	Registration
Evidence of training in English in a NMBI recognised country	A letter on headed paper or an email an education body covering the following: - The location of the education body - The name of the training programme attended - The dates of attendance Confirmation that the course was taught and assessed in English.	If you trained in one of the countries: - Australia - Canada - New Zealand - The United States of America - United Kingdom Exemptions: - Applicants who qualified in an EU country, must provide a letter or an email from their education body confirming that their qualifications and practice placements were completed in English. - Applicants from Canada, whose education body is based in one of the French provinces of Quebec or New Brunswick, are required to demonstrate that they have practised competently through English.	Registration

Other relevant training or previous compensation measures	Other training courses you consider are relevant. This will be considered by our assessors if you have shortfalls in your qualifications. If you have completed a compensation measure in another EU country, please provide evidence of that.		Qualification Recognition
Passport or ID	A certified copy of Passport or National Identity Card. Family members of EU nationals are also to provide evidence of their residence in the EU (see Annex 1). Applicants who have been granted refugee status or subsidiary protection status or are family members of someone who has been granted refugee status or subsidiary protection status in Ireland are to upload evidence of their status (see Annex 1).	Your ID upload should be clear, close up and in full colour with a minimum quality of 300dpi. The file should be in a PDF format. Valid and correctly certified ID. Expired documents will not be accepted. The MRZ (machine readable number) should not be obstructed.	Qualification Recognition and Registration
Proof of indemnity	Proof of indemnity in Ireland (insurance or letter from employer) to cover you if a claim is made against you.	The document must be valid for the period you intend to practise in Ireland.	Registration (Temporary and Occasional only)
Proof of professional experience	A form that you download from MyNMBI and send to your current and previous employer(s). Once completed by the employer you will need to upload it in MyNMBI. In this form the employer provides details (roles/duties/activities) of your employment.	In your online application you will need to enter details of your relevant employment since qualifying. G2/G3 applicants will also need to provide employment forms as evidence of post qualification experience (PQE), which may be considered during the qualification assessment. Please note that if you do not submit the employer forms then your PQE cannot be considered.	Qualification Recognition

Qualification Form	A form that you download from MyNMBI and send to your education body to be completed. This form must be completed by the Head of Nursing or Midwifery Education. The translation must be: • carried out by a qualified translator • signed and stamped by the translator, and • dated by the translator.	Qualification Recognition and Registration

Review Process

Your Application: NMBI Review Process

Administrative assessment (G1/G2 and G3 applicants)

Your application will undergo an administrative assessment of all your documentation. You will be advised by email if any additional information is required.

Qualification assessment (G2 and G3 applicants)

The transcripts of your training and syllabus will be assessed by a specialised Education Assessor. The assessor will examine in detail whether the clinical and theory content of your qualifications meets EU Directive and NMBI requirements. If relevant, additional courses to your graduate and post-graduate qualifications and work experience will be considered.

In your online application you will enter details of your relevant employment since qualifying. You will also need to provide employment forms completed by your employer as evidence of post qualification experience (PQE). Please note that if you do not submit the employer forms, your PQE cannot be considered.

The assessor will consider the duration and type of your education programme(s), the quantitative requirement (combined hours as per transcript), qualitative clinical placement component (CPC) requirement, theoretical and clinical instruction content and also post qualification experience (PQE), where relevant, to address deficits identified in the education programme.

Please note that if your nursing or midwifery programme was less than 3 years in duration and you have not studied an extra course, it is likely that your application will not meet the threshold for a compensation measure.

NMBI processes applications in a chronological order on a first come, first served basis. We do not fast-track applications for any reason.

Following the assessment of your application, NMBI will inform you of one of the following assessment outcomes:

- 1 Your qualifications have been recognised.
- 2 Further information is required.
- 3 You are required to successfully complete a compensation measure (applies to G2 and G3 only). A compensation measure refers to a period of adaptation or an aptitude test that needs to be successfully completed before we can recognise your qualifications. This decision is taken:
 - if the theory and clinical content or hours of your overall nursing or midwifery education and training falls short of NMBI requirements, and
 - If you have enough hours or appropriate content to allow you to complete compensation measure(s).
- 4 Provisional refusal to recognise qualifications. This means that there are significant deficits in theory or/and clinical content of your training compared to NMBI requirements.

To proceed to the next stage, your qualifications need to be recognised first. This happens when:

- 1 NMBI informs you that the clinical and theoretical components of your education and training meet the NMBI standards (meaning no compensation measure is needed), or
- 2 You have successfully completed a compensation measure – a period of adaptation or an aptitude test – as requested by NMBI.

Compensation measures: completing a period of adaptation or an aptitude test

If you are applying to the General Nursing division and you were informed by NMBI that you are required to complete a compensation measure, you have a choice to undertake one of the following:

- Period of adaptation
- Aptitude test.

If you are applying to any division other than General Nursing, you will need to complete a period of adaptation. An aptitude test is not available for Midwives, Children's Nurses, Psychiatric Nurses, Intellectual Disability Nurses, Public Health Nurses, Nurse Tutors, Midwife Tutors, Nurse Prescribers, Midwife Prescribers, Advanced Nurse Practitioners or Advanced Midwife Practitioners divisions.

You will be given a link to MyNMBI to inform us of your choice.

What is an aptitude test?

The Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland's (RCSI) Faculty of Nursing and Midwifery coordinates and manages an aptitude test for applicants trained outside the Republic of Ireland. The test is composed of two parts:

- Part 1: Theory or knowledge test or MCQ, which must be successfully completed before Part 2 can be attempted
- Part 2: Practical or OSCE test.

Please refer to this link for full details on this test.

Process to complete the test

- You have 12 months, from the date on the letter to complete the aptitude test.
- Complete RCSI's online application.
- The RCSI will send you a confirmation email with an invitation to the test.
- You may need a visa to travel to Ireland to complete the test. NMBI has no role in organising or answering visa related queries. For more information please contact the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS).

Once you complete the test, you can inform NMBI of the result through MyNMBI.

What is a period of adaptation?

A period of adaptation is a period of supervised practice under the supervision or responsibility of a qualified member of that profession. You may have supervised practice accompanied by further training. This period of supervised practice will be assessed.

Periods of supervised practice must be undertaken at an approved Irish healthcare facility. You will be able to choose from a list of hospitals matched to the division of the Register you are applying to and approved by NMBI. A list of approved healthcare facilities is available on our website.

The minimum timeframe to complete a period of adaptation is six weeks. However, that period may be extended to 12 weeks or more, if required.

General information

- You have 12 months from the date on the letter to secure a period of adaptation. After that period elapses, your application will be closed.
- You may need a visa to travel to Ireland to complete the period of adaptation. For more information, please contact INIS. NMBI has no role in organising nor answering visa-related queries.
- You or your potential employer must contact the health care facilities to secure an adaptation placement. We do not organise periods of adaptation for our applicants.
- Once you find a health care facility you need to:
 - complete information on the hospital in MyNMBI, and
 - upload a letter of confirmation of your adaptation hospital.
- NMBI will add you to the Candidate Register for the duration of your period of adaptation and we will issue you with a Candidate Certificate

What happens next?

When you start the placement, together with your preceptor (the person supervising your period of adaptation), you will complete the Competence Assessment Tool. This form can be downloaded from MyNMBI and once completed, you should upload it to MyNMBI.

At the end of your period of adaptation the Director of Nursing or Midwifery will complete a Candidate Eligibility Report (downloaded from MyNMBI) and send it by email to inform NMBI whether you successfully completed your period of adaptation.

English Language Competence

English Language Competence in Detail

All applicants must satisfy NMBI that they have the necessary knowledge of English to communicate effectively in their practice. This is a requirement of the registration process (after qualifications are recognised). Language competence is a critical aspect of patient safety.

Communication is defined as speaking, reading, listening and writing, and the applicant must provide evidence which demonstrates that they meet the required level of competence in these four mandatory skills.

To facilitate this, it is up to all applicants from outside of Ireland to satisfy one of the three pathways and demonstrate that they meet the NMBI English language requirements.

Pathway 1: Trained in English in a NMBI recognised country

The pre-registration nursing or midwifery qualification which an applicant is relying on for registration was taught and examined in English in one of the NMBI recognised countries.

NMBI will recognise the following countries as majority English speaking for the purpose of registering and practicing in Ireland:

- Australia
- Canada
- New Zealand
- The United States of America
- United Kingdom

Evidence required

- A document showing evidence of qualification completion and location of college.
- If the college is based in one of the French provinces of Canada (Quebec or New Brunswick), the college must provide confirmation that the qualification and practice placements were completed in English.

Exemption

NMBI will also accept an applicant who completed their pre-registration qualification in an EU country where English is listed as a co-official language. The applicant must hold automatic qualification recognition under the EU Directive. The college must provide confirmation that the qualification and practice placements were completed in English.

Pathway 2: Registered and practised in English

An applicant who wishes to rely on evidence that they have registered and practised in English must be able to prove that they have three years post-registration practice as a nurse or midwife within the last five years in one of the recognised countries.

NMBI will recognise the following countries:

- Australia
- Canada
- New Zealand
- The United States of America
- United Kingdom

Evidence required

A letter on headed paper or an email from the applicant's employer(s) or Nursing Authority covering the following:

- Location of employment
- Dates of employment
- Applicant's job title (nursing or midwifery)
- If the employer is based in one of the French provinces of Canada (Quebec or New Brunswick), the employer must provide a statement confirming that the applicant was practising as a nurse or midwife primarily in English.

Pathway 3: English language tests

The applicant may submit a certificate of test results from either the International English Language Test System (IELTS) or Occupational English Test (OET).

Evidence required

NMBI accepts International English Language Testing System (IELTS) Academic Test and the Occupational English Language Test (OET) as evidence of English language competency.

Please refer to the tables below for the minimum levels in each of the tests that are accepted by NMBI:

IELTS Academic Test	Minimum International English Language Testing System (IELTS) Academic Score
Listening	7.0	Overall IELTS score of 7.0 with a minimum of 6.5 in any one component.
Reading	7.0
Writing	6.5
Speaking	7.0
Overall	7.0

OET	Minimum Occupational English Test (OET) Grade and Scores
Listening	B (350-450)	OET (Nursing) with a minimum of Grade B in three components and a minimum of C+ in one component.
Reading	B (350-450)
Writing	C+ (300-340)
Speaking	B (350-450)

Please Note

- We only accept IELTS or OET test results that are less than two years old. If your test results have expired, you will need to re-sit the IELTS or OET.
- You must provide IELTS Academic Test Report Form (TRF) number OR OET Candidate Number.
- NMBI will independently verify your scores.
- We only accept one test result (one sitting) and do not accept combined results.
- NMBI only accept tests taken on a computer in a test centre, we do not accept tests taken at home.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

- Do not apply for registration until you meet the minimum scores under the IELTS Academic Test or OET.
- Ensure that the test result is current.
- Remember that if you apply to NMBI and do not meet the English language competence requirements, the assessment fee is non-refundable.

TRF Number or OET Candidate Number

You must upload your Test Report Form (TRF) Number or OET Candidate Number. Your TRF Number is the 15-18 characters (alpha or numeric combination) which you will find on the bottom right-hand corner of your Test Report Form. Your OET Candidate Number is the nine-digit number noted under your name on your OET Statement of Results sheet. NMBI will use the TRF or OET number you provide to independently verify your scores.

Appeals

Appealing a Decision

If you are not satisfied with one of the decisions below, you have the right to appeal the decision. You can only appeal if you receive one of the decisions below.

Appealing qualification recognition decisions (decisions 1 and 2)

Provisional decision 1:

Decision to refuse the recognition of your qualifications.

Provisional decision 2:

Decision requiring you to complete a compensation measure (Adaptation placement or Aptitude Test).

Appealing decisions 1 and 2

- G1 and G2 applicants can appeal provisional decisions 1 and 2 to the Registration Committee first (within 56 days of being notified of the provisional decision).
- Applicants can subsequently submit an appeal to the High Court (within 42 days of the Registration Committee decision). Applicants may alternatively submit an appeal to the High Court (within 42 days of the NMBI provisional decision).
- G3 applicants can appeal provisional decisions 1 and 2 to the Registration Committee only (within 56 days of the NMBI provisional decision).

Appealing a registration decision (decision 3)

Provisional decision 3:

Refused registration.

Appealing decision 3

- Applicants can appeal a decision to refuse registration (Provisional decision 3 above).
- All applicants (G1, G2 and G3) can appeal the decision to the Registration Committee (within 56 of receipt of provisional decision from NMBI). The decision of the Registration Committee can then be appealed to the High Court (within three months of the Registration Committee Decision).
- Applicants may alternatively submit an appeal to the High Court within three months of the NMBI's decision.

Overview of the Appeals Process

Applicant

- Logs into MyNMBI.
- Selects My Appeals.
- Confirms their personal details and selects the decision that they are appealing.
- Provides appeal rationale and uploads supporting documents (if any).
- Pays the fee.

NMBI

- Reviews the information and documents submitted.
- Requests additional documentation, if needed.

Registration Committee

- Reviews the appeal request.
- Decides on the application. The possible outcomes are to: confirm original decision, reverse original decision, or assign a compensation measure.

Applicant

- Receives an email with the final decision and rationale.

Fraud

Our Fraud Policy

This policy sets out the actions that can be taken when fraud is detected. The full policy is available on our website.

Fraud and fraudulent behaviours in relation to applying for registration

Fraud and fraudulent behaviours include, but are not limited to:

- False representation of facts on an application for registration
- Provision of inaccurate answers to questions on health, character, or other fit and proper related questions
- Forging of documents and/or credentials as required for registration
- Aiding, abetting, assisting or hiring an individual to violate or circumvent any laws, rules and regulations intended to guide the conduct of a nurse or midwife or other health care provider
- Alteration of/tampering with key dates (e.g., date of birth, dates of commencement and completion of pre-registration training/education programmes) on original documents such as birth certificates
- Alteration of/tampering with names on original documents
- Submission of inaccurate/false details of post-qualification employment
- Omission of information with regard to employment history
- Omission of information with regard to previous registration with a professional regulator or similar organisation
- Submission of documents that have not been issued by the named school of nursing, education body
- Use of forged seals or stamps
- Unauthorised use of seals or stamps
- Purchase of or fraudulently obtaining any nursing and/or midwifery certificates, diplomas or other documentation necessary for the purposes of registration.

Where fraud is detected or where doubts exist about the accuracy of information or the authenticity of documentation

If it is considered or alleged during the application process that an applicant has provided misleading information or fraudulent documentation, the Registration Department will not continue to process the application and we will refer the application to the Fit and Proper Panel.

The Fit and Proper Panel will consider the alleged misinformation or fraud. It may correspond with the applicant and ask for clarification or further information. It may also ask for further information directly from other parties. The applicant will be provided with full information about the reasons for concern and they will be provided with an opportunity to address them. Having considered the entire application, the Fit and Proper Panel will decide whether the application should proceed for assessment or registration, or should be refused.

Where fraud is confirmed

- Registration will be refused. All applicants who are refused have the right to appeal.
- The applicant will not be eligible for registration again in the future.
- An alert may be sent via the IMI system to notify other competent authorities about the falsification of documentation.

Annex 1: Definitions: EU Member State Nationals, Family Members, Refugee and Subsidiary Protection

Who is considered a Member State national?

Citizens of the 28 Member States of the EU:

Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Republic of Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain and Sweden.

And, per the definition of Member State used in the Recognition Regulations, those countries not in the EU but which are members of the European Economic Area (EEA):

Iceland, Liechtenstein, and Norway.

Who is considered a family member of a Member State national?

A family member of a national of a Member State, as defined in Article 2(2) of Directive 2004/38/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 29 April 2004, who has been given the right of residence or permanent residence in the State pursuant to that directive.

In this context Member State does not include the EEA countries and family member means:

- (a) the spouse; or
- (b) the partner with whom the national of a Member State has contracted a registered partnership, on the basis of the legislation of a Member State, if the legislation of the host Member State treats registered partnerships as equivalent to marriage and in accordance with the conditions laid down in the relevant legislation of the host Member State; or
- (c) the direct descendants who are under the age of 21 or are dependants and those of the spouse or partner as defined in point (b); or
- (d) the dependent direct relatives in the ascending line and those of the spouse or partner as defined in point (b)

if that family member has been given the right of residence or permanent residence in the State pursuant to Directive 2004/38/EC.

Who is considered to have refugee or subsidiary protection status?

A person granted refugee or subsidiary protection status in the State under Council Directive 2004/83/EC of 29 April 2004, or a dependent family member of such person.

In this context 'family members' means, insofar as the family already existed in the country of origin, the following members of the family of the beneficiary of refugee or subsidiary protection status who were present in the same Member State in relation to the application for international protection:

- the spouse of the beneficiary of refugee or subsidiary protection status or his or her unmarried partner in a stable relationship, where the legislation or practice of the Member State concerned treats unmarried couples in a way comparable to married couples under its law relating to aliens; or
- the minor children of the couple referred to in (i) or of the beneficiary of refugee or subsidiary protection status, on condition that they are unmarried and dependent and regardless of whether they were born in or out of wedlock or adopted as defined under the national law
